The technology is used to analyse and improve the AI behaviour of opponents, creating FIFA 22's brand-new "Fighting Intelligence": a deep analysis that gives AI teammates intelligence beyond what the player in possession of the ball is capable of. This is combined with FIFA 22's new "Supervision System" - an online AI system that collaborates with a physical game AI to create an "artificial intelligence sharing hub" that acts as an intermediary between the game AI and opponents. FIFA 22 introduces the first major evolution in both the game's vision system and the way in which it communicates with the game's physics engine, improving the responsiveness, realism and match pace of play. Visual improvements include a more realistic rendering of player faces in close proximity to defenders. The game's defending system, new ball physics, goalkeeper, reactive pitch and goal-line systems, as well as the new "look-and-feel" of a variety of surface types have been enhanced. FIFA 22 will be launched on 6th September for PC, Xbox One and PS4. Pre-order offers are available from 1st May until 18th June across all platforms. HyperMotion technology FIFA 22's "HyperMotion" technology analyses 22 real-life players' movements while they are playing a complete, high-intensity football match. This means that the following data is collected and analysed: player trajectory, speed, acceleration, spin, timing, duels, aerial duels, tackles and shooting. The data collected is used to enhance each one of FIFA's many game mechanics, and in turn, make each one of them more realistic. In order to keep players' movements as close to real-life as possible and to give them as much performance scope as possible, FIFA 22 uses no visible markers or cameras. The data collected is used in combination with the millions of gestures made during game sessions, including players' interactions with the ball, defensive and offensive movements, as well as interactions with their teammates. In order to be as accurate as possible, FIFA 22 studies the motions of the 22 players at any point in time during a game. The following data is analyzed: Player movement: The player's ability to change direction and attack. Players must be

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- The new era of player movement - FUT 22 pioneered a progression system that simulates authentic player movement. Now, only one pass gets you into the opponent's half. Fewer headers rule the skies and fewer throw-ins get you into defensive shape. The skilled players will be readjusting to a new era of football.
- Crowded Outrun lanes - Make your muscle memory a competitive advantage and dominate goal-scoring situations with new movement and run mechanics. Each player continues his run upon completing a tackle. Every defender runs out and challenges the ball carrier in a rapid game of cat and mouse. This dynamic style requires precision and tactical decision-making to break the opposition down.
- Tactical Challenges - Make every player's traits and skills the foundation for unlocking a series of challenging in-game modes and training sessions.
- Inverted Stadiums - The FIFA Booth series comes to a new level as the ball gently rolls out of play in authentic stadiums.
- Accelerated Retouch - A wider camera angle improves visibility in your industry-leading retouching tool, making it easier to see and work on finesse shots like volleys and curling shots.

- Huge improvements in Pro Clubs - Make the right player decisions and fans will be more vocal than ever in their excitement and confidence as top European football gets a revamp in FUT 22.
